Allot Communications Receives an Expansion Order of $15M from a Tier-1 Operator

Order includes Allot Service Gateway Tera and Value-Added Services

HOD HASHARON, Israel, September 8, 2014 /PRNewswire/ --

Allot Communications Ltd. (NASDAQ, TASE: ALLT), a leading global supplier of service optimization and revenue generation solutions for fixed and mobile broadband operators and cloud providers, announced today that it has received an expansion order of $15 Million from a major tier-1 operator for the Allot Service Gateway Tera, Allot ServiceProtector and Allot ClearSee Data Source solutions. Allot received this order during the third quarter of 2014.

The Tier-1 operator selected Allot Service Gateway Tera due to its integrated services coupled with its extreme scalability, supporting high density of 10GE ports suitable for large scale networks.

Leveraging Allot's intelligent traffic steering and load balancing capabilities, the solution will provide various value-added services. Among the services ordered are Allot ServiceProtector for safeguarding against distributed denial of service (DDoS) cyber-attacks and Allot ClearSee Data Source solution to provide rich data sources for different applications.

"We are pleased to see that the Allot Service Gateway Tera is continuing to gain momentum, success and adoption among the world's top operators," said Andrei Elefant, President and CEO of Allot Communications. "Additionally, our value-added services - Allot ServiceProtector and Allot ClearSee Data Source - provide critical capabilities for operators that desire top-notch security protection as well as advanced analytics that turns big data into meaningful business intelligence for better decision-making."
